

078. Chapter 6 verses 10-14

Lectures by Swami Sarvapriyananda

VERSE 6.10

योगी युञ्जीत सततमात्मानं रहसि स्थितः । एकाकी यतचित्तात्मा निराशीरपरिग्रहः ॥ 10 ॥

yogī yuñjīta satatam
ātmānam rahasi sthitaḥ |
ekākī yatacittātmā
nirāśīraparigrahaḥ ||

yogī – the Yogi; yuñjīta – should engage/practice; satatam – constantly; ātmānam – the self; rahasi – in secret/solitude; sthitaḥ – remaining; ekākī – alone; yata-citta-ātmā – with mind and self controlled; nirāśīḥ – free from hope; aparigrahaḥ – free from possessions.

Alone, stationed in a solitary place, self-controlled, free from desire, and not receiving anything from others, the yogi (Practising Dhyānayoga) should unite the mind with Atma.

शुचौ देशे प्रतिष्ठाप्य स्थिरमासनमात्मनः ।
नात्युच्छ्रितं नातिनीचं चैलाजिनकुशोत्तरम् ॥ 11 ॥
तत्रैकाग्रं मनः कृत्वा यतचित्तेन्द्रियक्रियः । उपविश्यासने युञ्ज्याद्योगमात्मविशुद्धये ॥ 12 ॥

śucau deśe pratiṣṭhāpya
sthiramāsanamātmanah |
nātyucchritaṁ nātinīcaṁ cailājinaakuśottaram || 11 ||

tatraikāgraṁ manaḥ kṛtvā yatacittendriyakriyaḥ | upaviśyāsane yuñjyād
yogāmātmaviśuddhaye || 12 ||

In a clean spot, a firm seat should be made, neither too high nor too low, and it should be covered by cloth, skin, and holy grass one over the other. There, being seated, having made the mind one-pointed, controlling the actions of the mind and the senses, let him practice Dhyana Yoga for self-purification.

VERSE 6.13-14

समं कायशिरोग्रीवं धारयन्नचलं स्थिरः ।
सम्प्रेक्ष्य नासिकाग्रं स्वं दिशश्चानवलोकयन् ॥ 13 ॥
प्रशान्तात्मा विगतभीर्ब्रह्मचारिव्रते स्थितः । मनःसंयम्य मच्चित्तो युक्त आसीत् मत्परः ॥ 14 ॥

samaṁ kāyaśirogrīvaṁ
dhārayannacalaṁ sthiraḥ | samprekṣya nāsikāgraṁ svaṁ diśaścānavalokayan || 13 ||

praśāntātmā vigatabhīr brahmacārivrate sthitaḥ | manaḥ saṁyamya maccitto yukta āsīta matparaḥ || 14 ||

Let him firmly hold the body, head and neck erect, and gazing on the tip of his nose, without looking around, let him sit, serene and fearless, established in the vow of celibacy, self-controlled and balanced, thinking of Me as the Supreme goal.
